

Comparing the average bias of the methods across significant peaks

